

Fluid Cooling for Automotive Electronics

Housing integrated concept

Features

- Decreased weight – Replacement of aluminum die cast by polymer parts
- EMC-Shielding – Usage of appropriate plastic materials / coatings
- Increased thermal performance – Integration of multichannel cooling profile into housing
- Double-sided cooling functionality – PCBs can be mounted on both sides of cooling profile
- Robustness – Proper sealing of fluid ports

For more information please contact Christoph Englert, Project Manager Pre-Development at VOSS Automotive GmbH, by phone +49 2267 63-5816 or email: christoph.englert@voss.net.